Concealment and Revelation

Why do we dress up in costumes on Purim? Some say that though God plays a role in the miraculous rescue of the Jews, God is hidden from the stage of history—concealed in costume, as it were. Or maybe it's because Esther (whose name in Hebrew is similar to sefer, secret or hidden) hides her Jewish identity in the palace harem. Or it's because of the general upside-down conclusion to the story—venahafokhu—in that Haman ends up hanged on the very tree he prepared for Mordechai, and the Jews, targeted for annihilation, end up ascendant.

Whatever the reason, when dressing in costume, one is saying, "See me as something other than what I am." For this issue of The Rabbi's Nightstand, I want to reflect on two books I've read recently, both of which are stories of concealment, but for very different reasons.

The first is The Angel: The Egyptian Spy Who Saved Israel by Uri Bar-Joseph, a political science professor at the University of Haifa. It tells the story of Ashraf Marwan, the

Our Cantor's Voice

Happenings at HHBJC

Firstly, I would like to begin by asking everyone to join me in saying a prayer for the victims, their families, their friends, and all the students and faculty at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida. The tragic mass shooting has caused so much loss and pain so let us pray that all who were/are affected find the strength to get through this terrible tragedy. Let us remember all the victims and keep them in our hearts.

I know it is a difficult transition but I will now move on to tell you about some events and happenings taking place at our congregation.

On April 11th, we will host a Community Yom Hashoah Program to take place at HHBJC at 7:00 PM. There will be several other synagogues together with their Rabbis and Cantors that will join us in this program as we remember and honor the victims of the Holocaust.

I am very pleased to let you know that our dear member, Sam Solsaz, a Holocaust survivor whose book "ANGEL OF THE GHETTO" is now available on AMAZON and is in high demand, will be interviewed at our Yom Hashoah Program and we will have the rare opportunity to ask him many questions about what he went through, how he escaped and how he managed to survive. We will hear first-hand about his remarkable story. This will be a very moving and eye-opening interview as we hear about Sam's bold escape, incredible survival and rebuilding of life. Let us all support Sam as he opens up to us and shares his memories and experiences with us. DON'T MISS IT. Wednesday, April 11th at 7:00 PM at our Synagogue. Please join us in supporting Sam as he shares his incredible story with us.

I can't wait to see all of you at our 2018 Simcha Dinner Dance which is truly right around the corner. It is being held on Saturday night, March 10th at 8:00 PM, in our Ballroom where we will honor our beloved RABBI DAVID WISE as he celebrates his 13 year Anniversary as our Rabbi, Friend and Teacher.

Passover is also around the corner. Hopefully the spring-like weather will continue and we will all celebrate a beautiful Pesach.

See you in Shul.

Cantorially always,

enigmatic son-in-law of Egyptian president Gamel Abdel Nasser, and one of the most important spies in Israeli history. Bar-Joseph's contention is that Marwan provided Israel with intimate knowledge of Egypt's military plans, but was ignored by at least one influential voice in the Israeli intelligence hierarchy, and was later painted as a double agent who deceived Israel. In The Angel, Bar-Joseph provides ample evidence and other voices from Israel to show that were it not for Marwan's last-minute communications, the initial damage that Egypt inflicted on Yom Kippur 1973 would have been far worse.

Here was a member of Nasser's innermost circle, a supposed Egyptian patriot, selling secrets to his country's avowed enemy. Why would Marwan do this? Bar-Joseph mentions the conventional wisdom among students of traitorous espionage, but suggests that Marwan was motivated primarily by money and ego, the latter of which needed to be fed by the exhilaration of risk-taking behavior. "His behavior included a need for stimulus, which often drives people to take risks, whether physical or emotional. Some people take up rock climbing, skydiving, or bungee jumping. But Marwan was not drawn to the sporting life...the act of betrayal itself gave Marwan a sense of adventure that his stormy psyche desperately needed" (p. 32)

The second book that tells of concealment is The Underground Girls of Kabul by Jenny Nordberg. The book is an expansion of her research into the phenomenon in Afghani society of the bacha posh, the girl temporarily raised and presented as a boy. Given the emphasis on boys in this and other cultures, the inability to produce boys (or worse, the births of girl after girl) is a source of shame for families. So in this book, we meet a number of girls who are sent to school as boys and, commonly, are accepted as boys until puberty dictates that they switch back to their birth sex.

Nordberg introduces us to a variety of bacha posh, most notably Azita, who served a term in Afghanistan's parliament representing a distant rural province and is raising her youngest daughter as a boy. We see how she navigates gender in a country where she has lived in different climates: in cosmopolitan Soviet-era Kabul with dreams of becoming a doctor; in poverty as an illiterate man's second wife, during her term in government and after she loses her seat in a clear case of election fraud. And we learn that she herself was raised as a bacha posh, until her well-connected father arranged her marriage. In Azita and others in The Underground Girls of Kabul, we find a form of resistance to the Afghani patriarchy. "Most bacha posh...

A Continuing Focus on Holiday Simcha... Please Join Us!

The Ohr Chadash Religious School has now successfully, and most comfortably, settled into our Winter/Spring Home at Hillcrest Jewish Center. A very special thank you to Rabbi Kogan and the entire Welcoming HJC Staff...Todah Rabah.

As you read this article, Ohr Chadash will have completed very festive Rosh Hashanah, Succot, Chanukah, Tu B'Shevat and Purim Family Programs. I wish to thank all of the many parents, siblings and grandparents who have been joining us all year greatly contributing to the success and enjoyment of these most Wonderful Holiday programs.

Our dedicated teachers are currently enthusiastically enjoying preparing for what promises to be a very exciting Passover Family Model Seder to be held on Sunday morning, March 25th, beginning at 10:15AM. Students, parents, family members and guests will all have a golden opportunity to go through much of our Haggadah and learn how to lead their own Pesach Seders. Passover, our Festival of Freedom, is truly a most beautiful Yom Tov that we should all experience in a very meaningful way. I cordially invite all of you to please join us on March 25th, for what promises to be another most Shalom! Now that winter is on its way out and spring is in the air, we are gearing up for our spring activities.

Thank you to all the wonderful women who worked so hard to put together the Israeli themed Purim baskets. Thanks also to those who helped distribute the baskets after the Medillah reading.

Our plans for the upcoming season include a games day, a special themed Sisterhood sponsored Shabbat, our unique Women's Seder, and our back-by-demand Challah Bake. We are looking forward to a square dance on June 10th co-sponsored by the Men's Club. We hope to see all of you at the Hollis Hills Bayside Simcha 2018 Dinner, honoring Rabbi David Weiss, as he celebrates his 13th anniversary as rabbi of the HHJBC.

Please remember our gift shop for that special gift. The Hollis Hills Bayside Jewish Center sponsors events that bring us together for variety of cultural, charitable, and fun happenings. As always, we welcome your suggestions and participation.

Stay tuned for our next planning meeting. Remember, if you need a ride, just let us know.

have paid dearly for living as boys, and their circumstances were rarely chosen. But once they found themselves on the other side, they fought back. And it was noted. So can a story of concession and resistance, of tragedy and hope, exist at the same time? For women, it always has" (p. 300).

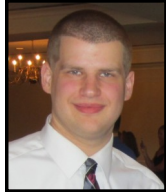

On Purim, we conceal ourselves for the thrill of it, like Marwan, but also as a form of resistance. And when we return to public view as ourselves, as Jews, we should emerge with greater confidence in our true identity. It's fitting that one month after Purim, we have Pesach, which we first observed by painting our doorposts with a mark that identified us as Israelites. The intended audience of that symbolic expression wasn't God, for God didn't need to look for our mezuzot to determine if we were Jews. Commentators say that during the Exodus, we painted the inside part of the doorpost so that WE would know who we are. Now, we put the mezuzah on the outside—concealed in costume no longer.

Wishing you a festive Purim and a proud Pesach,
Rabbi David Wise

February, as always, was a quiet month at H2I – with the Super Bowl and Mid-Winter Break, we only had one Sunday night meeting. We used the quiet month, however, to plan for an incredible final third of the year as we move to Hillcrest JC for our weekly programming.

Our biggest program of the year is our annual Purim Carnival, which serves as our major fundraiser each year to offset the costs of our youth program. This year's Purim Carnival, open to everyone in our communities, will take place from 12:30-3 PM at Hillcrest Jewish Center, and will feature carnival games, prizes, a bounce house, food, and more. In addition, we'll be raffling off some amazing items once again this year – including 4 Park Hopper tickets for DisneyWorld, items from local sports teams, NY Water Taxi Tickets, a Wheel of Fortune Prize Pack, $200 of scrapbooking supplies, and more! To purchase tickets, stop by the Carnival – winners do not need to be present at the time of the drawing.

After Purim Carnival, we have a month full of regular programming, which you can read more about on our website – www.h2iyouthgroup.org!

After surviving a winter of ice & snow,
 The smiles on our faces should start to glow,
 Spring has made itself aware,
 And it's a time of year we all will share,
 Enjoy the Passover days & the Matzo balls you'll be served,
 It's a meal that is well de-served!

Happy Birthday to Erin Pitkow, & congratulations on the promotion she recently received at our place of business. I must also admit that I age another year this month.

Dr, Alvin Pitkow visited his mother in Florida, It must have a joyous holiday. It was also so great to see Socorro & Stefan Giesen's pictures that they submitted from their trip to South America.

Enjoy your Seders & all the family get-togethers.

Please keep me informed with news for the next column. Thanks.

JUDITH LESNIK CHESED COMMITTEE AND ENGAGEMENT COMMITTEE

In light of this flu season, our committee has been making calls to cheer people up and see if anything is needed. We hope by the time you read this, those people mentioned are doing well without any recurrence.

Hold The Date: Sunday, March 18th :10AM-2 PM -our committee, along with the guidance of Linda Liederman our amazing Congregational Nurse, has put together a day for instruction in CPR and First Aid. Wouldn't it be nice to offer life-saving measures to people? As grandparents, parents, siblings or friends, we never know when this difficult experience will occur. Details will follow shortly, so keep your ears and eyes open.

Hold The Date: Saturday, April 14: Chesed Shabbat-currently, we are working with Rabbi Wise and Cantor Zim to coordinate a Shabbat service, where we hope many will attend. Stay on the look-out for information to follow.

Lastly, as of this writing we look forward to creating Purim baskets for our shut-ins. If you are unable to get out, we will come to you! See you then:)

In good health,
 Laura Brodsky

memorable Ohr Chadash Holiday experience.

Once again, and most importantly, if you know of any families that might be interested in trying us out, please send them my way. You are all great Em-issaries and Ambassadors for Ohr Chadash. Baruch HASHEM, we continue to grow. Please remember that there will always be a very special place for every child, every teen and every family, in Ohr Chadash.

Wishing You All A Most Happy, Healthy & Meaningful Pesach.

IT IS THAT SPECIAL SHABBAT ACROSS AMERICA TIME AGAIN!!

On Friday evening, March 9th, families all across the United States and Canada will sit down together and enjoy the rituals of our people. This year, because it is the night before our Dinner-Dance honoring Rabbi Wise, we are going to be doing something different.

We are asking you to do Shabbat Across America at home. Please invite someone you like (or even love) to share Shabbat dinner with you. A mailing is going out from our shul to give the outline of rituals and some really good recipes. Most important, in these days of rush and worry, we invite you to take the time to enjoy the uniqueness of a shared Shabbat - along with millions of other people. What could be better than that!!
